ANTARCTICA: The experience of a lifetime

There are cruises which change forever the way we look at the world because they give rise to such strong emotions, are rich in sensations and offer so many exceptional encounters.

Is there anyone who has not dreamed of exploring the "White Continent"; that frozen expanse at the end of the world, where the sun seems to hover between day and night over an extreme land of ice and water, a polar desert of mesmerising landscapes?

The Antarctic offers the promise of a truly exceptional journey, a unique voyage to the heart of a vast icy land of pure colours, seamlessly blending blue and white. Here the silence is broken only by the crack of breaking ice.
